

Alexandria Gazette

SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 11.

Captain J. M. Bent, of Mr. Sterling has arrived in Louisville with specimens of the flesh which fell last Friday in Bath county. The flesh covered two acres of ground, resembled mutton, and left traces of blood on the trees and fences which were touched by falling flakes. The heavens were clear, the sun shone and the only floating objects were visible at 2 p. m. on March 3. Quantities of the flesh have been preserved. That brought to Louisville was given to Professor Lawrence Smith, a well-known scientist, who says it is no doubt animal flesh.

ADVERTISING IN HARD TIMES.—Horace Greeley, who knew the value of advertising to business men probably as well as any man that ever lived, always insisted that hard times, when business was dull and money scarce, was of all others the time when merchants should advertise the more liberally so as to stir up the people's mind to buy from them. This is a piece of philosophy that admirably stands the test, and is verified by every show and exhibition that comes along.
